

Time to team up

Introducing Voice Calling with Microsoft Teams

The way we work has changed. We're now seeing a new 'hybrid' workplace, offering employees more flexibility.

A combination of remote, home and office work where results matter more than hours, data insight drives decisions and technology plays a crucial role in connecting people.

It's time to take your business into the digital future, and in partnership with Microsoft, we've built the perfect solution:

Voice Calling with Microsoft Teams

A superior external calling package that connects seamlessly with Microsoft's leading collaboration platform.

Giving you a comprehensive and cost-effective way to manage all your calls and communications easily – in one place. So you can embrace hybrid working and meet employee expectations, while accelerating your digital transformation.
