

Faster threat detection and response for a safer estate

How our Managed DDOS solution helps a leading fresh food provider

A company of 20,000 employees that provides freshly-cooked meals to customers across the country saw much-increased demand on its services during 2020. It was looking to beef up their cyber security, particularly with regard to potential DDOS attacks.

We recommended they moved from our entry-level service provision to our Managed DDOS solution.

Thanks to our strong existing relationship with them, they trusted us to deliver an always-on service with the technical expertise they needed, at a reasonable price. And they knew we would have the flexibility to scale up with them if their business grew.

Key benefits

- Better protection of your network thanks to our multi-layered DDoS security solution using network and cloud capabilities.
- Single platform for threat detection and mitigation; our Internet Connect option means we're a one-stop shop.
- A fully-managed service means a quicker response to threats.
- Cloud-based solution means we identify attacks before they hit your network.
- Our subscription service lets you add different levels of protection as needed, with no capital expenditure.
- A stronger relationship with your provider.
